Friends of Calvary St. Andrews presents

South Wedge Sunday Lecture Series
Anna Douglass - Station Manager
on the Underground Railroad

Presented by Frederick Douglass Historian
Rose O'Keefe

Sunday, February 9, 2020
3:00 p.m. – 4:30 p.m

Anna Murray Douglass was the stalwart and loyal wife of Fredrick Douglass, maintaining their home front while he was on the road and hosting guests involved in the anti-slavery movement . Since their house was on the Underground Railroad, Anna watched over and directed the people who showed up at their doorstep - any time of day or night. She kept her guard up while presenting a calm face to the world.

Learn more about this amazing, often over-looked woman. Learn how School #12 came to be named for her and much, much more.

In the Historic Calvary St. Andrew's Sanctuary in the ROC Salt Center at the corner of Averill Ave. and Ashland.

Parking is available on street or at the Postler and Jaeckle lot at South Ave. and Averill.
