Urban League and RIT announce INTERRUPT RACISM, a collective action platform

Urban League of Rochester, N.Y., Inc.

The Urban League of Rochester and Rochester Institute of Technology are collaborating on a project aimed at engaging the community to identify immediate action steps to address systemic racism, inequity, and power differentials.

The platform, entitled INTERRUPT RACISM, will use a collective impact approach to engage all community members interested in sharing ideas that will help the greater Rochester community heal and move forward.

The Urban League will act as facilitators of a “community-wide suggestion box,” designed to especially hear and uplift the voices of individuals who might not otherwise have a seat at policy tables, from frontline essential service and healthcare workers; to teachers, parents, and students; to veterans and small business owners,

“Everyone, across generations, cultures, languages, and experiences, has social power and value that we must mobilize to see true change,” said Seanelle Hawkins, President and CEO of the Urban League of Rochester. “While we request and value the input of social service organizations, government officials, and large corporations, we respectfully acknowledge that these representatives already have influence in policy. Now is the time to let individual voices be heard.”

Those interested in participating in, or learning more about, INTERRUPT RACISM may do so beginning today at the Urban League of Rochester website. Online submissions will be accepted through July 5.

From the One Take Documentary series and Presented by The Black Cinema Series
& the Rochester Association of Black Journalists

Three vital documentaries return virtually to The Little.

Download the trio here ($15 for all three): <https://magnoliapictures.vhx.tv/products/documentary-bundle-the-little-theatre>

Typically with virtual movies, the proceeds are split between the distributor and The Little. We will be donating our portion of the proceeds on these three films to Yoga 4 A Good Hood.

I AM NOT YOUR NEGRO: Filmmaker Raoul Peck envisions the book James Baldwin never finished — a personal account of the lives and assassinations of Medgar Evers, Malcolm X and Martin Luther King, Jr. I Am Not Your Negro debuted at The Little in Feb. 2017, as the first film in The Black Cinema Series, presented by The Rochester Association of Black Journalists and The Little.

WHOSE STREETS?: Sabaah Folyan's debut film details the 2014 Ferguson protests. Whose Streets? debuted at the 2017 One Take Film Festival, co-presented with the Rochester Association of Black Journalists and The Black Cinema Series. Director Sabaag Folyan was at The Little for a post-screening Q&A.

TONI MORRISON: THE PIECES I AM: An intimate meditation on the life and works of the legendary storyteller and Nobel prize-winner, Toni Morrison. This documentary debuted at the 2019 One Take Film Festival.

These films are presented by The Black Cinema Series and partner Rochester Association of Black Journalists, along with the One Take Documentary series and festival (OTFF).

Rochester-Monroe Anti-Poverty Initiative in Need of Feedback

Happy Monday!!

As you know, up until now RMAPI has focused on gathering general feedback from the community to get a sense of what people are concerned about and what they need.

I am hoping to lean on you to help spread the word about this survey to increase the number of respondents. The survey is available in both Spanish and English and takes about 10 minutes and will be open until 11:59 on Friday. The survey can be found at www.rocrepondsrmapi.com . I would love to see an increase in responses from the Hispanic/Latino population so any additional support with that would be amazing!

- a. The messaging that we’ve been using to get the word out is simple and straight forward. Would you be able to post this on your social media platforms as well as share it with your networks as you see fit?
 - i. "Now more than ever, it is critical to ensure we are focusing on what really matters. YOUR VOICE MATTERS .Go to www.rocrepondsrmapi.com to complete a quick survey and let us know what your main NEEDS and CONCERNS are in the midst of COVID 19!"

Additionally, to see what the feedback is telling us in real time simply go to <http://endingpovertynow.org/rochester-covid-19-feedback/> and check out the various dashboards we have available for you to access.
